

Method of Providing Secure Payment and Transaction Reconciliation

Abstract

A method of paying a merchant for a claim service provided to a claimant. The method including the steps of receiving a request from a merchant for a payment associated with a claim, generating a claim identifier, generating a payment number having a predetermined limit amount and a predetermined expiration date, associating the claim identifier with the payment number and transmitting the payment number to the merchant for payment of the claim.